THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Since Memorial Day was first observed in honor of those who perished that their country might still live in liberty, three wars have added to the numbers of our heroic dead. Our country has accumulated a reserve of courageous spirits, who, we would like to believe, give us silent but potent counsel in piloting our ship of state through the troubled waters of world affairs.

We doubt if there is a single family in this wide country which has not been touched by the blight of war. The social body is covered with the scars of war. Our monuments to those who died that we might live in peace and security and in enjoyment of the Bill of Rights, dot the landscape, between Maine and California, between Minnesota and Louisiana.

These should mean that we, who live, are constantly reminded of the cost, the rent we pay in sacrifice of youth and in monstrous taxes for the privilege of living in and maintaining a land of freedom. We dream of a time to come when all peoples will cherish their freedom and regard justice as we do, but when one considers that fully half the world is now governed by despostic cliques, perhaps honestly believing that their way of life is best for the human race, the time of universal peace seems afar off.

Those that died in the Civil War mostly rest in well kept cemeteries within our own boundaries, but during the Sanish War, and the two world wars, our boys were called abroad and many of them rest in foreign soil. In the last war, indeed, nearly all those who died, were outside our national boundaries. Recently we saw a photograph of the U S. Cemetery on Okinawa, where so many of our beloved soldiers, sailors, and marines lie. It was so orderly, so quiet, and to the minds of those who treasure the patriotism of their dead, so hallowed with all that is fine and noble in our national traditions, it calls for leaving it as it is and maintaining it there as a perpetual reminder to the submerged, lowly race that lives on Okinawa, of the sacrifices the western race of Anglo Sazons, has made, and is ready to make, in order that they too may become free.

Our country is now embarked upon a course which eventually may lead to war and it may be the most destructive war of all time, the real Armageddon, perhaps, forecast in the Good Book. But we have much faith in the outcome of this policy. We believe the forces that would enslave men, as does either communism or fascism, will be defeated, and defeated because we have been, as a nation so long free that the freedom gives us an enormous advantage over any race that has accepted a form of slavery as its standard of life.

Looking back over the 156 years of national life, it would seem that Americans have always lived "dangerously." We have been ready to fight to maintain those ideals of freedom expressed in our fundamental law. Looked at objectively the three wars, in which this country has engaged abroad, were, in effect, crusades for the freedom of all peoples. We freed Cuba and Philippines. We went to war in 1916 largely because of desire to maintain French freedom and remove from the British Isles the threat of German domination.

To an oldster, who remembers back to those early Memorial Days when the Grand Army of the Republic paraded the streets and marched to the cemeteries to cover the graves of their fallen comrads with flowers, this country has been entirely consistent in its destined course to free the world. The Civil War, freed the black slaves of this country. They have been a problem, to be sure, since that time. But will any historian arise to say that a savage people has ever made faster progress on the road to an enlightened civilization than have our Negroes.

ROGERS HELD TO ANSWER ON ATTEMPTED RAPE CHARGE; DETAILS AIRED IN PRELIMINARY HEARING

NEVADA CITY: Bonnie Bailey, who gave her name in Nevada Township Court yesterday as Bonita Bailey Andes, testified at the preliminary hearing of (Roy) Raymond Rogers, that she was attacked while sleeping in the car of her escort at Olympia Park Sunday morning at 1 o'clock. Rogers was held to answer on charge of theft and attempted rape.

She identified Rogers as her assailant. She testified that while her escort had gone to get a couple of sandwiches, she reclined in the sandwiches and she reclined in the coupe seat and went to sleep. She said she was awakened by someone attempting to tear off her underwear. She struggled with her assailant and he struck her in the face, with his fist, which cut her chin and knocked out one of her teeth. She bled profusely not only covering her own clothes with blood but also those of her asailant. During the struggle she said, her attacker exposed himself. When he finally fled he seized her yrist watch and wrenched it off.

Gene Blake night watchman who covers Olympia Park area testified he arrested Rogers on complaint of Mrs. Andes about 5 a. m. Sunday. He stated he took Rogers to the Grass Valley police station where he was searched.

Mrs. Andes' watch was recovered along with her purse which she had not missed until then. He said that Rogers admitted at the police station that he was an ex-convict, having served 5 years in San Quentin for armed robbery.

Justice of the Peace George Gildersleeve set bail at $1500 which Rogers was unable to provide.

Sheriff Hoskins said that Rogers memory was singularly blank about anything that happened Sunday night between 10 p. m. and 4 a. m. But he admitted four burglaries in Grass Valley.

Chief of Police Frank Knuckey Wednesday received a message from George Brereton, chief of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification, stating that Rogers, is wanted in Los Angeles on a grand theft charge.

The Merchants ended the sixth behind 11 to 1, which was the final score. Amos and Moeller engaged in another battle during the remaining innings.

The Maroons collected nine runs and six hits and three wild throws by the Merchants pitcher to the bases.

Burns Larson, young Merchant shortstop continued to play brilliant ball handling several hard chances.

Stan Jones, who collected 2 for 4 at bat also made several nice catches in center field. Jones had to leap to pull down one line drive.

Clark and Haddy also made good catches. Clark took a line drive on the left field line and Haddy staged one running on right field line.

Ralph Childers made a nice play at first in the third when an infield throw pulled him from the bag. With one quick swipe, Childers tagged the runner.

The most spectacular catch of the day was the bare handed one made of Babe Childers line drive to left field.

Haddy did a Pepper Martin head first slide back to second safely when Meller stopped a low pop up, from the bat of Childers.

Fouyer continued his fine work behind the plate for the Merchants and contributed 2 for 3 at bat to lead the team for the day.

Stroh, local third baseman continue to play bang up ball and scored the only run.

Jerry Gays, former Merchant, had a good day with the Roseville A. C. last Sunday banging out a homer and three singles in four times up.

You can't hear what Henry is saying under the bed but you can be sure he is a "hot sales prospect" for Adequate Wiring. With Adequate Wiring there are plenty of outlets properly placed to eliminate inconvenient outlets in hard-to-get-at places.

A home with Adequate Wiring has plug-in outlets closely spaced and conveniently placed; it has enough circuits with wire large enough to carry full electric power to each appliance and lamp. Best of all, there will be no need for a tangle of cords hanging from an "octopus plug" when you want to use an extra lamp, clock, radio or small electrical gadgets. Insist on Adequate Wiring when you build or remodel. Write or come to any P. G. and E. office for your free copy of the 16-page booklet, "Electricity in Your Home Plans."
